Centrepoint Alliance Limited advises that it is in discussions regarding its finance brokerage business

The board of Centrepoint Alliance Limited (ASX:CAF) is in discussions with employees engaged in its finance brokerage business in relation to a potential restructure of that business and its ownership. At this stage, CAF's discussions with these employees are incomplete, non-binding and conditional and no formal transaction structure has been agreed.

Shareholders should be aware that there can be no assurance that these discussions will lead to any formal transaction.

The board of CAF will keep its shareholders advised of any developments in due course.
